

Some Morphogenetical and Behavioural Traits in the Sunni Muslims of Jammu and Kashmir, India

Gurjeet Kaur Sidhu and Praveen Singhal

Department of Human Biology, Punjabi University, Patiala 147 002, Punjab, India

KEYWORDS Genetical Traits. Behavioral Traits. Sunni Muslims. Jammu and Kashmir

ABSTRACT A total of 135 Sunni Muslims belonging to the Ahmadiyya sect and inhabiting the Hari Pari Gam of the Pulwama district of the Northern most border Indian state of Jammu and Kashmir have been surveyed for 14 different genetical, morphological and behavioural traits.