

Socio-emotional and Psychological Problems of Retired Elderly in Haryana: A Comprehensive View

Darshana Punia and Shakuntala Punia

KEY WORDS Ageing. Social. Emotional and Psycho-logical. Adjustment. Problems.

ABSTRACT Two hundred and forty retired old men and women belonging to two generations drawn by a random sample of households of the urban areas of Haryana state participated in the present study. A questionnaire and an old age adjustment problem inventory were used to gather information on family demography and different types of old age problems. The results of this study indicated that old females faced more problems than old males.

Authors' Address: Darshana Punia and Shakuntala Punia, Department of Child Development College of Home Science, CCS Haryana Agricultural University, Hisar 125 004, Haryana, India