

Harnessing the Gains of Public and Private Cooperation in Education Delivery in Nigeria

Ilu O.C.Adomeh and Oyaziwo Aluede

*Department of Educational Foundations and Management, Faculty of Education, Ambrose Alli University, Ekpoma, Nigeria
E-mail: oyaziwoaluede@yahoo.com*

KEYWORDS Education; Nigeria; private participation; public participation; quality education

ABSTRACT There is no gainsaying the fact that private and public sectors cooperation in education delivery in any nation is not only necessary, but also, equally desirable because education is a social service that a nation ought to render its citizen. When both sectors harmonize their contributions to the education of the learners, the results are enormous. This paper therefore sought ways of harnessing such gains. It also affirmed the fact that both sectors have been cooperating in education sub sector in Nigeria. When this cooperation was disrupted, a number of challenges set into the education industry. The paper further provided means for the consolidation of the gains of the renewed education cooperation in Nigeria